Campaign to Fight HIV

Instructions: Your campaign to stop the spread of HIV will address one common problem or way of thinking that makes teens more likely to risk catching HIV. For example, you may have heard things like:

"My boyfriend doesn't want to wear a condom, and I feel bad asking him to wear one."

"I've known her all my life. There's no way she has a disease."

"I don't think I want to have sex, but I guess it's no big deal ..."

"My girlfriend is on the pill. We started out using condoms, but we don't anymore."

"HIV isn't even a big deal anymore. They control it with drugs."

"How am I supposed to buy condoms? Everyone at the store will know I'm having sex!"

"Are you kidding? He's so clean-cut, and he plays sports all the time. He does not have a disease."

"I didn't have any money for condoms, so we didn't use one."

Choose one of these ideas or one of your own, and then use it to design a bumper sticker and poster for the campaign.
